We would like to acknowledge the help and contributions of some important people. Some provided photos, some text and student information and some their editing skills. Without them this project would still be a work in progress! Thank you to Denise, Sheila and Jeff, Merrylou (our invaluable archivist), Campbell & Suzy, Stephanie, John Wayne, Geraldine & Heather and of course our hardworking Yearbook students.

Houses

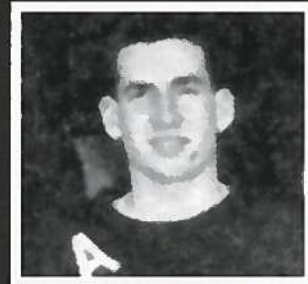

Nicola and Michelle are callin' up the boys, Ana's reading books again while June plays with her toys.
 Taylor's on the soccer field, Ally's cheering her on,
 Savannah's too busy, eloping with Alberto to Culiacán.
 Romy's in Australia riding the kangaroos,
 While, Clementine's in the stables, cleaning up the horses' poo.
 Christina is dreaming about island paradise
 And Vanessa's booty reads peas and rice.
 Jessica is baking them cookies and cake,
 Janine is looking forward to that date.
 Lily is not far behind, wondering what else she can eat
 Little does she know, Luisa has some pranks up her sleeve
 Felisha is known for being #5
 With her homework and sports, Joey is barely alive.
 Jodi is diving for that rugby ball
 And Cindy's gone to the tunnel to give Frank a call.
 Yonna is getting lost with the big rugby girls,
 While, Melissa is looking good in those stunning pearls.
 Valeria is in the wrong bathroom again,
 Making all the girls go insane.
 Rumsha and Ella think it's about time to pop some champagne.
 From the Head of Houses, we would like to thank all the Glass girls for the memories we created together. Also, we would like to thank Julie for being our mommy in times of need. To Ms. Harding, thank you for staying up those long nights and sorry for the unexpected moments. M. Laramée, our girl talks in the Glass common room will always be remembered. Our BU Chelsea, we are sorry for making you feel uncomfortable when you're on duty, but thank you for everything. Finally, to Katie and Ms. GoldFinch, even if you weren't there for the end of the year, all the time and effort you put in for us is appreciated.

ross girls

Because Ross Girls is the house with the highest academic standings, it is quite obvious that every single one of us will be very successful in whatever professions we end up doing in the future. Considering where we stand today, researchers have hypothesized and concluded that these are the jobs we will end up with in the next 15 to 25 years. Since this is the 175th year, this is just an example to what we will contribute to the world.

Julia Coote - New York Times Best-Selling Author
Leah Davidson - Leader of UN Security Council

grier south

A Typical Day in Grier South:

6:45 a.m.: Bill wakes up, runs up to the bathroom to get the shower on the right since it has a better shower head.

7:15 a.m.: Alberto brings his huge speakers on his shoulder into the bathroom with loud electronic music.

7:20 a.m.: There is a line of about five people in each floor, with David shouting "Hurry Up! Apurate!"

7:45 a.m.: Cedric has just woken up while people are ready to go already. Ricardo is gelling his hair like a boss.

7:50 a.m.: Every body is out of the house.

4:30 p.m.: William and Thomas are longboarding right after school around the campus.

5:00 p.m.: Adam takes over the couch and the TV to watch his football game.

6:00 p.m.: Nic has just taken a shower and running up to the dining hall to be on time for check in.

6:30 p.m.: Alex is chilling in his room with his wicked guitar.

6:45 p.m.: Harry is already ready for prep in his room and he plans to not to come out of his room until lights out.

7:20 p.m.: Everybody arrives back to the house and prepares for prep while Abdullah is getting ready to sleep.

7:35 p.m.: Prep is started and Charles is asking Mr. Bray if he could go "ask a question" to Carlos who is drawing comics that he is about to produce in... some day....

8:58 p.m.: Prep is just about to finish and Nico is asking Mr. Bray if prep is over. Because of him asking, prep is extended to five more minutes.

9:00 p.m.: "Prep's Over!!!" Chris shouts

9:05 p.m.: "Eric, save me a pizza pocket please." Sergio begs on his knees to Eric.

9:10 p.m.: Eric brings out his key and finally opens tuck for everyone while shouting "Tuck! Tuck!"

9:12 p.m.: Nate is going around the house to get some money to buy some tuck.

9:20 p.m.: Juan is taking over the microwave to cook his extra butter popcorn.

9:30 p.m.: Julian arrives from his library prep duty looking tired.

9:35 p.m.: Eric has just closed tuck and Jose comes over to him. "Eric can you open tuck again please? I was... watching some soccer videos." Eric opens tuck and Jose asks how much pizza pockets are. Eventually, he doesn't have enough money and decides to go back to finish the soccer video.

9:45 p.m.: Mr. Bergeron gets up from the couch and gets everyone going for lights out.

9:50 p.m.: Alejandro comes down to do the clean – up "Why is it always me that has to do it?"

9:55 p.m.: Eric, Ricardo and Nic are making sure everybody is getting ready to go to bed. While J.P. (Harfush) is hiding his Kraft Dinner under his desk to eat it after lights out.

10:00 p.m.: Josh White, the B.U., shouts "Lights out, guys!" with his colourful t-shirt and hippie looking slippers.

Fifth Row: Mr. A. Spirk; Mr. A. Bergeron. Mrs. S. Bray; Mr. J. Bray

grier north

Hey! Welcome to Grier North Side! This charming piece of campus is home to eighteen great guys! Come on in!
We have pretty busy lives here, so we've compiled this list of what you can expect on an average night here...

Firstly, Our TOD's are usually at the forefront of our activities:

Mr. Brandon: While he's not drawing or playing the guitar, he's running the Grier North comedy show.

Mr. Byrne: Can be found in the office, chatting to our lucky 6th and 7th formers regarding university life, especially the much anticipated social aspects.

Mr. Hopkins: Seeing him patrolling is often a sign that you should stop messing around, and start "smartening up". Seeing him enter with a black casserole is often a sign of chicken wings.

Eric (the Jedi Master): Our beloved Eric often partakes in his favourite activity of all, opening tuck; he loves doing it so much he opens it up to 7 times an evening! He also leads the two Jedi Knights in their upbringing.

Josh (our BU): While he isn't scaring us with his "suicide note" (ask him about it) or watching a movie, he can be found keeping our various trouble makers in line.

Then we have the Poker Club:

Francois-Xavier: Known for his poker abilities and his apparent skill of being able to play every musical instrument known to man.

Charles: The keeper of the poker chips. Skilled at stick handling in various sports, that's if he's not concussed. Shares with Djime one of the most popular rooms in the house, but also the messiest.

Kadjo: In love with money, he keeps a healthy stubborn attitude, willing to defy anyone who dares not lending him money. He will still laugh at just about anything, or anyone.

Steven: Often seen sitting in the bottom of the stairs. Being new to the school a few months after the beginning of the year, his Italian roots form his personality.

Djime: A huge beat box, a collection of Nestea cans which is apparently impossible to get rid of, a black light, many other things make it more than a surprise if you find his room clean. Often needs the help of more than one person to accomplish the duty of waking him up.

The Asian Connection:

Kevin: This variation of Grier North boy has developed immunity to the most dangerous weapon of all... the alarm clock.

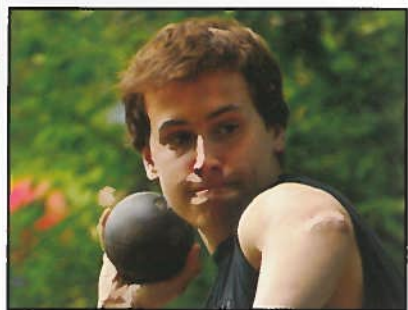

Leong: Undoubtedly the most talented tetris player in the history of the school. Also a passionate Minecraft and Starcraft player.

Cheon: The most athletic of the clique, he is known for his famous cooking of the Chinese "fried rice", a healthy dish that gives a nice Asian smell to the house.

Ming: Also known as the "scoop artist" of the house, is often found running after his victims. Likes to listen to music when he's in the bathroom, perhaps making his showers more fun.

Angus: The body builder of the house. Often seen filling up his protein shake. Also flexes in the mirror when he thinks no-one is watching. We have yet to mention he's the only prefect in the house, which gives a noticeable authority.

Bob: You rarely see this bear of a man. He is constantly in his room sleeping or is otherwise somewhere other than the house.

The Boomers:

Liam: Nominated by himself to the status of Head of House, he maintains a very dynamic attitude and a leadership power over his peers.

Hector: Roommate with himself, he gets time alone at home to compensate with the constant energy in school. The trio formed with Liam and Abdu is the spirit of the house when it comes to house activities and Chapel management.

Abdu: The most agile and vicious of the group. Abdu is rarely present on weekends, but is known to be one of the loudest Chapel characters of the school. You do not want to mess with him. He is nonetheless always happy to talk to everyone.

The Jedi Knights:

Charlie aka Platypus: Can be found in his room playing with his various toys. Charlie is often found teaching martial arts to people in the house.. Especially his co-knight.

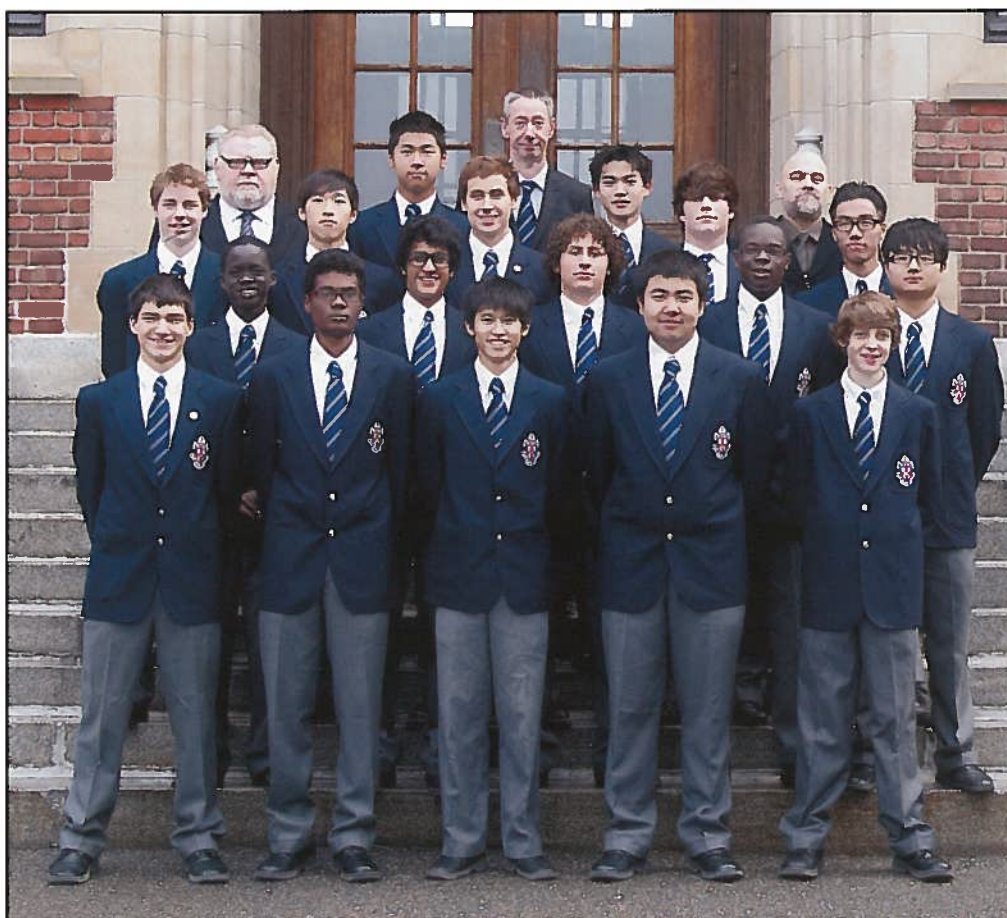

Simon aka Ferret: Often stays in his room playing on his guitars and keeping the house awake. He also wins the prize of "the house's worst fighter"

The Padawans:

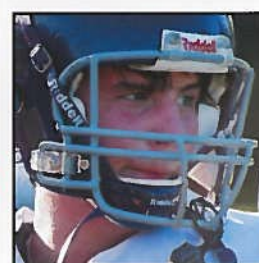

Max: Victim to multiple pranks, he's not the kind to hold a grudge against you for too long. His origins remain unknown, varying from Switzerland to Germany and Austria; he will choose what fits the most.

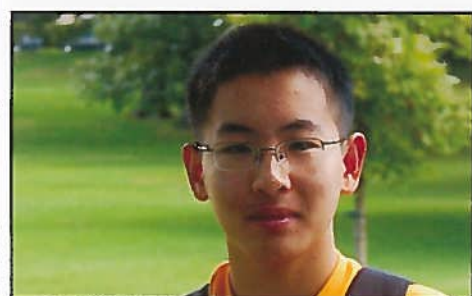

Quincy: This charismatic padawan is known for his impossible amount of shoes, and for his famous Wutang T-shirt and apparel. In love with basketball, he seems to know every possible statistic and standings possible.

(With thanks to the authors, Charlie and Simon)

The first time I set foot in Williams House as a Residence Assistant (BU), I thought to myself it was going to be an easy task and I considered it just another one of my part time jobs. After a few weeks I realized that being a BU was much more than a part time job, it was a full on 24/7 commitment. I then realized why Bishop's College School had so much effect on my mother, Marguerite Lévesque: BCS is much more than a mere high school, it is an extraordinary community: From the staff and faculty to the students and parents. Monica and Glen are exceptional House Parents with great determination and patience for me and the boys. I could never, and I don't know many who would be able to, take care of 15 students while taking care of a young family and having another job. The Teachers On Duty (TODs) were amazing and helpful in making Williams a better place. A month later as a BU, I tried to spend as much time as possible with the boys, but I had the impression that it was never enough. Not that they needed me, but I needed them. It was a life changing experience and every day I knew a little bit more from every one of the guys. Today, I sit in my chair on the 17th of June, everyone has left, and I think of all the good memories we had, I think about how I wished I would have done more, how I miss every one of you, how I actually consider you guys as friends not students and I also think about how to deal with your absence next year. I want to thank all of you for these wonderful memories:

Josh Lapin: Watching videos on your computer and being traumatized by one in particular (you know which one!)

Eloi Nadeau: first thing that comes to mind is "Well that's a bummer"! The banana in the kitchen... Yes it is still there and you still need to eat it for 5$!

Alex Brodeur: Our great conversations, our "competition" on who is right and who isn't even though it wasn't official, revising your English essays.

Chris Ondo: But seriously, you are obsessed with Tuck!-Frank Yao: Frankina Lemon Yao, always playing guitar, our conversation on anything and everything, "can I be asian for a day? What would be my asian name?"

JiHan Wi: Dr. Lepage Lévesque, Dr. Wii and Mister Yao, Frontoparietotemporal network that got you a 98% thank you very much!

Trevor (Michel) Denver-Simard: the holes in the common room, sparring sessions, tattoo, talking about women constantly, army boy, the "collective attacks".

George Sparkles Margaritis: Tony's Express Poutine Club sandwich, weird habit of sniffing people, weird noises like: mmbbhhouuu, MW3 survival, the "collective attacks".

Pierre De Saint Jean: Running away from the attacks, very open to relationships, cleanest room in the house, French.

Roberto Pichardo Franzoni: Robby, the centipede.

Alberto Herrera Cabiedes: The drawings.

Erik Wattie: Skyrim, MW3, facebook war, hiding in your closet, the only one who didn't need to run away from Pierre.

Jordan Brown: Sleeping in the woods, Skyrim all night, MW3, sleeping in the common room.

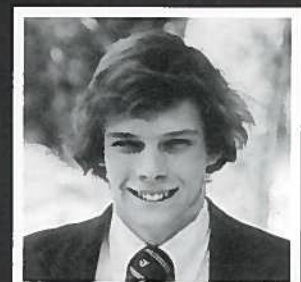

Hector Chavez Velez: Giving you a name or questions when lights out.

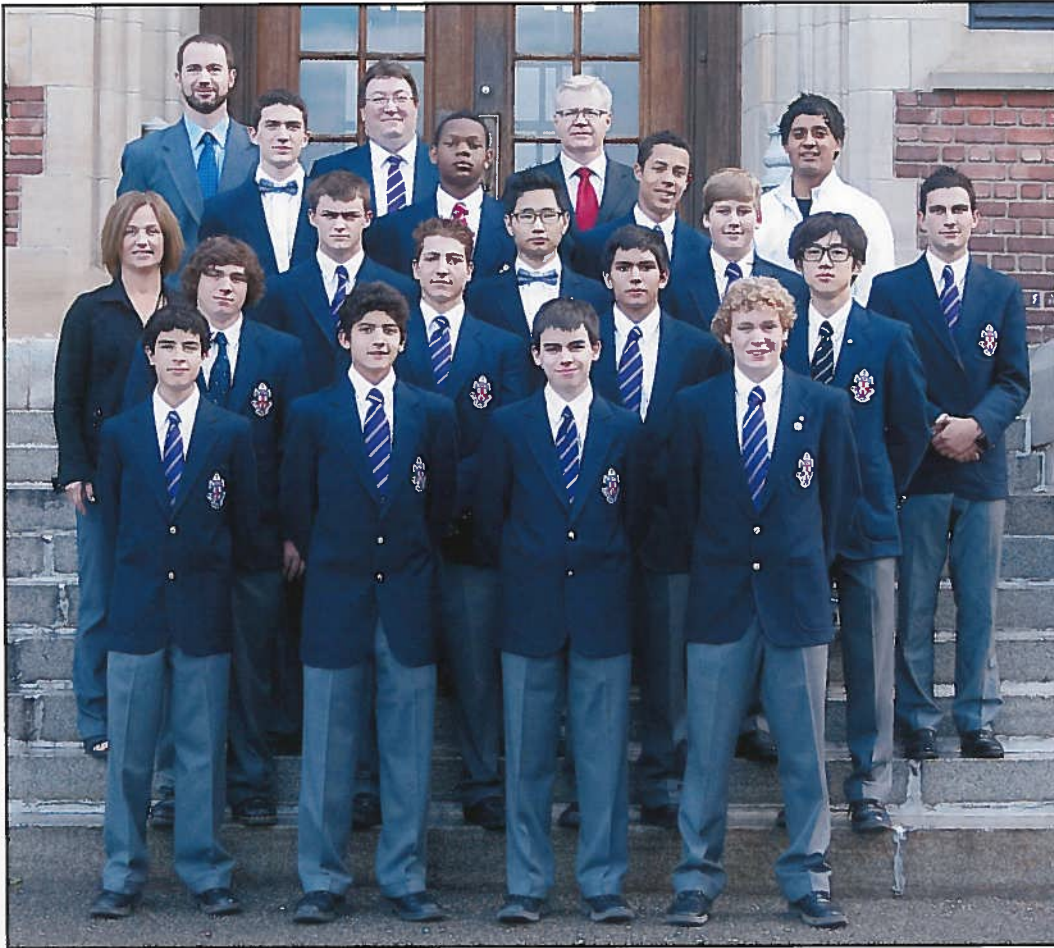

Brendan Barritt: Giving you a name at lights out and questions, late for Prep, late for lights out, Bendina, so many funny moments.

I wish the best for you all and for the ones who I might never see again: we shall meet again, promise! Please do not forget this year, as I shall never forget. Try hard in everything, cherish your relationships and thank people close to you for everything they have done for you.

It has been an honour to be your Residence Assistant (BU), I will miss you!

Manuel Lepage Levesque

reaching out

The goal of Movember was to "change the face of men's health." For the month of November, BCS males grew their moustaches to raise awareness of men's health issues, and raise money for research. BCS raised over $2000 for the cause.

November 9: Silly Socks Day

Students and Faculty donned silly socks and no shoes in order to raise awareness of child poverty around the world.

December 7

BCS St. Martin's Choir performed for the residents at St. Andrew's Home in Montreal. It was a lovely performance and the audience seemed very touched by our presence.

December 11

BCS students and staff reached out to the greater community this holiday season by purchasing gifts and by helping to prepare a Christmas meal celebration at the Cornerstone Foodbank. It was a wonderful community event. The dinner was delicious, but the smiles of the children receiving their gift was magical.

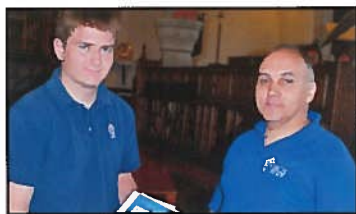

April 4 - Pink Day: Bullying Stops Here!

BCS students and staff participate in the national Pink Shirt Day and take a stand against bullying, in all of its forms!

April 21 - Lennoxville Community Clean Up!

Over 60 BCS students and staff, participated in a local clean up. BCS made up about half of the community attendance! They did a great job painting over graffiti and cleaning up the garbage.

May 3 - 1st Annual Swim-a-Thon

BCS's 1st annual swim-a-thon took place at Bishop's University. The event was organized by Ryan Harding-Marlin and the money raised was donated to the Cornerstone Food Bank.

June 5 - Coffee House

The 7th Form Drama class raised over $450, which was given to Corner Stone Food Bank. To top it all off, the show was a huge hit!

November 23
BCS student Jessica Walsh was published in Prince Edward Island's RED The Island Story Book. Her story entitled Island Winter Sunrise speaks of her home, on Prince Edward Island and the sense of contentment and wonder one can only experience at dawn of a winter's morning.

cadet camp

september 12-13

This past weekend, the entire BCS student body spent two days at Val Cartier, at this year's Cadet Camp. It was a fantastic experience where students learned and honed a variety of skills, and had the opportunity to push their own personal limits. During the two days away, students rotated through a variety of activities which included camp craft and marksmanship, as well as the chance to try out the largest high-ropes course in Quebec. Due to the superb weather and some fortunate timing, a few students were lucky enough to go up in gliders with the Air Cadets. An additional benefit of this adventure, for BCS students is that the experience can be counted towards the achievement of their Duke of Edinburgh Bronze or Silver Award. It was also a great way for the new and returning students to get to know each other. A great time was had by all.

remembrance day

november 11

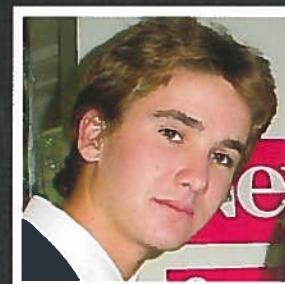

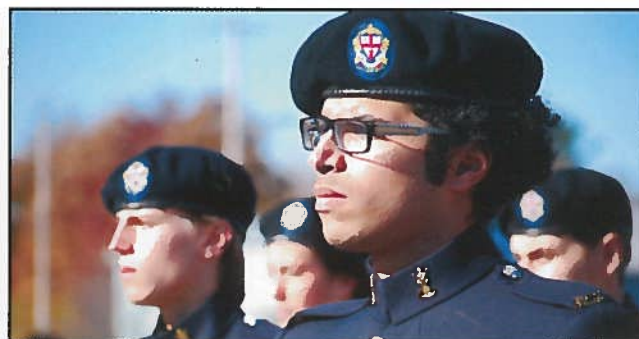

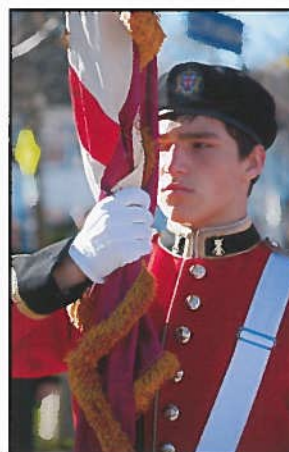

Members of the Bishop's College School community paid tribute to our veterans with the annual service of remembrance, Thursday, November 10, 2011, in the school chapel. The ceremony began with the presentation of colours to Major Gilles Nichols by the colour party and the singing of our National anthem. There were 129 BCS old boys lost in the wars, each with their own story. Today we learned about the life and contributions of Captain Peter Holt, for whom our library is named. Major Abdulrahman Al Showaier read the names of the BCS soldiers lost in the First World War, as a candle representing each life was extinguished. Captain Amadeus Brin then read the names of the fallen soldiers, lost in the Second World War and the Korean War. The Last Post ushered in a moment of silence.

On Sunday, November 6, 2011 Bishop's College School participated in the annual Armistice parade.

The Lennoxville community assembled to remember the members of our armed forces who have died in the line of duty since World War I. Headmaster Ian Watt lay a wreath and two minutes of silence were observed. The marching band set a great tone and the NCO's and Color Party were a source of great pride.

trip to new york city

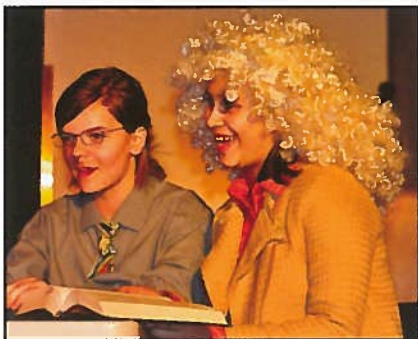

november 11-14

This November break was amazing! A group of students and their trusty chaperones went on the school trip to New York City. We were only there for a short while, but we did so many things! There was so much to see and do in the city. We went to Times Square and Fifth Avenue a couple of times for walking and shopping. We also visited the Rockefeller Center, and climbed the RCA Building all the way to the top (70th) floor. We got to go and see a hockey game in New Jersey, and the Broadway production of The Adams Family. We boarded a boat to see the Statue of Liberty, and took the chance to take hundreds of pictures, even with strangers. One of our favourite destinations had to have been the mall. We all had so much fun hanging around with each other, getting to know new places, and getting to know more about each other too. I think it was an incredible trip. Everybody was relaxed and soaked it all in. ~Adrian C. A.

christmas concert

december 3

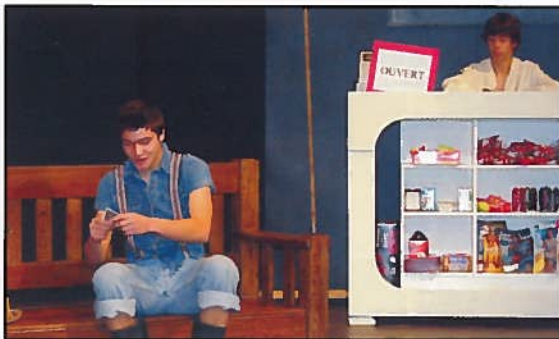

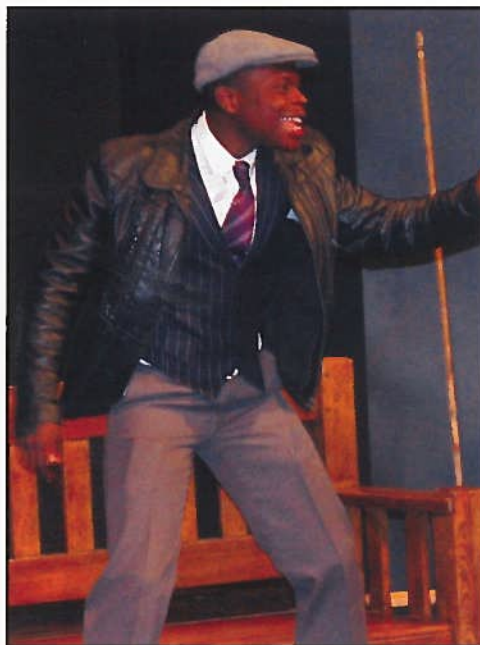

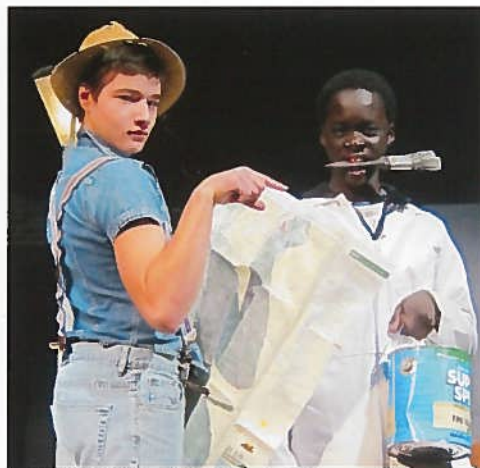

BCS held its annual Christmas concert on Saturday at Bishop's University's Centennial Theatre. Mr. Randy Jackson (Bands) and Mme Maryse Simard (Choir) prepared an excellent show, showcasing this year's talented musicians and singers. This years show also included two performances prepared by the dance programme (both class and crease participants). It was a wonderful show and certainly something of which to be proud. To all of the performers and their instructors, bravo!

service of nine lessons

december 15

Members of the BCS and greater community gathered in St. Martin's Chapel to celebrate the "Service of Nine Lessons and Carols". It was a beautiful service, and one which really brought to light the sense of internationalism that makes our BCS community unique. Lessons were delivered in English, French, Spanish, and Korean, and hymns sung in French, German, Spanish, and Latin filled the room. Following the service, the congregation gathered in Ross Hall, for some delicious refreshments prepared by our BCS kitchen staff.

march 7-10

BCS participated in the annual National High School Model United Nations conference in New York city. Eight BCS students went to New York well prepared, but unsure as to how strongly they would perform when faced with three thousand other delegates at the conference. In the event, the BCS contingent did extremely well.

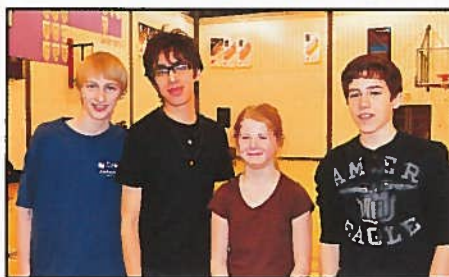

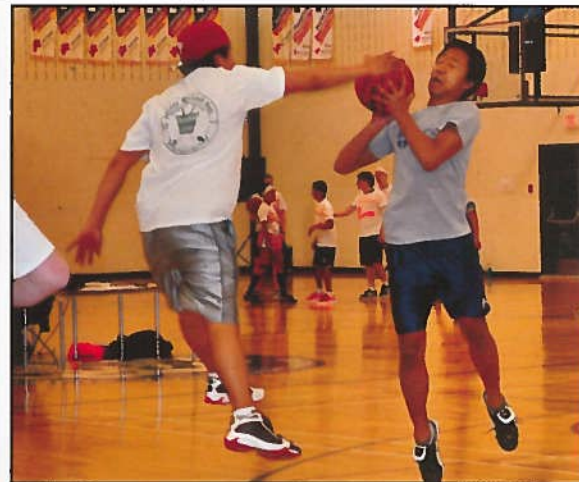

The school, as a first time participant, had been assigned to represent a small country, Samoa. In the committee sessions the Samoan delegates were often the leaders, proposing policies that influenced larger regional and worldwide neighbours. The final day is the most fulfilling as all of the committees meet to present their propositions to the UN General Assembly. The setting is spectacular as the student delegates become the ambassadors for their country, actually taking the ambassadors' seats in the UN General Assembly meeting chamber. Boarding the train at Penn Station there was a sense of accomplishment. The hard work in preparing position papers and country profiles, the long committee sessions and all of the travel had been worthwhile. The students enjoyed the sights, sounds and tastes of the city, and they also gained a real sense of what it takes to make policy, and reach agreements in a complex organization like the UN.

The annual 3 on 3 basketball tournament saw ten teams compete for top honours. The tournament raised $200.00 for the Cornerstone Foodbank and earned the two top ranked teams "Swoosh" and "High Flyers" a dress down day for their great team effort. It was a great community building event.

During their March Break the BCS senior girls rugby team along with one alumnus and two members of Stanstead College Senior rugby team traveled to Europe to play rugby against 5 different U-18 club teams in Wales and England and one mini tournament in Sitges, Spain. They had an incredible tour both on and off the field and are extremely happy to have been able to participate in such an amazing and life building experience.

march 17-24

The BCS hockey teams spent the March Break playing hockey and touring Europe. They spent the first leg of their journey taking in the culture and visiting historical sites of Germany and Switzerland. Theb they played three intense and physical but very fair games, winning all three. All the players came to play and gave it their all resulting in a very successful tour!

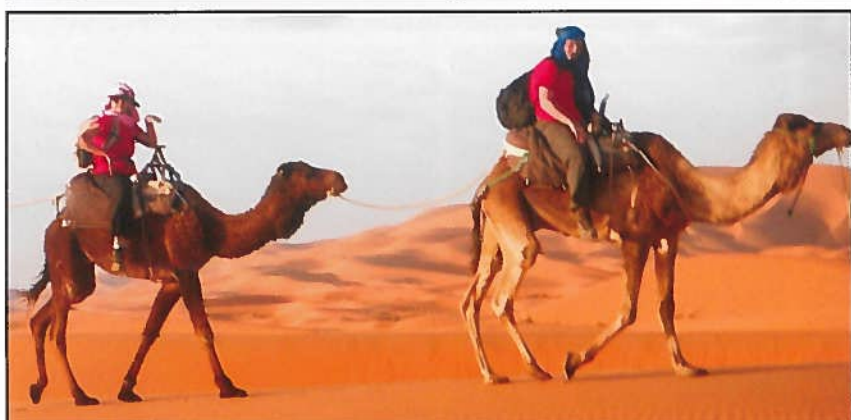

ondaatje expedition to morocco

march 9-24

The 2012 Ondaatje Team of Joey Chan, Tao-Jung (Stephen) Liu, Ryan Harding-Marlin and Alexander Brodeur, chaperoned by Ms. Jasmine Chouinard and Ms. Lynn Harding landed in Casablanca before taking a domestic flight to Marrakech. The following morning they departed early for the heart of the High Atlas Mountain, where they spent the next week hiking and discovering what they were capable of doing, individually and as a team. They hiked a minimum of 12 to 16 km per day, on rugged steep terrain at high altitudes with the sun bearing down. For the 2nd phase of our trip they headed to the dunes of Erg Chebbi, first for some site seeing, then 4x4 racing in and around the dunes, and finally to ride in a caravan of dromedary (camels) to a camp, "tent city." Phase 3 of the journey took them to the white city of Essaouira on the Atlantic Ocean. Overall journey was a worthwhile, challenging experience that will never be forgotten.

Students traveled to Farnham, QC., to participate in different group activities whereby they demonstrated great teamwork and pushed personal limits. They raced through obstacle courses and down ziplines.

stoker arts festival

Through the generosity of the Stoker family, we celebrated our 20th year of the Stoker Arts Festival this past weekend. This festival is a day to celebrate the arts in many forms; from cooking, calligraphy and kung fu to pottery, African drums and improv. The variety of workshops available this year was very impressive and it gave the students the opportunity to really express their creativity. In the afternoon, it was rewarding for everyone, participants and observers, to see what some of the workshops had learned through the course of the morning. The vibe was felt with the African drums and the intensity continued with a demonstration from the Kung Fu group. Finally, to top off the atmosphere of the day, everyone listened to live music from a local band in the Quad. The day was exceptional!

black watch parade

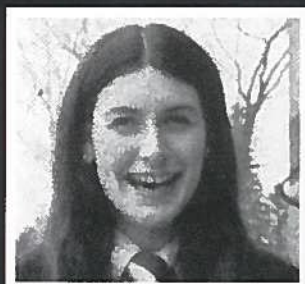

may 6

Twenty eight members of The Bishop's College School # 2 Cadet Corps went into Montreal to represent the school on the occasion of the 150th Anniversary Black Watch Church Parade. After mustering at the Armoury with the Black Watch Regiment, the parade marched along Sherbrooke Street to the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul, where a service was held. It was a beautiful sunny day and the parade delighted many of the onlookers. The BCS cadets certainly did us all proud and received many compliments, and a great deal of appreciation for their involvement. Following the church service, the parade, complete with a massive complement of over 75 pipes and drums returned to the regimental home on Bleury Street, where an awards ceremony took place.

tree planting

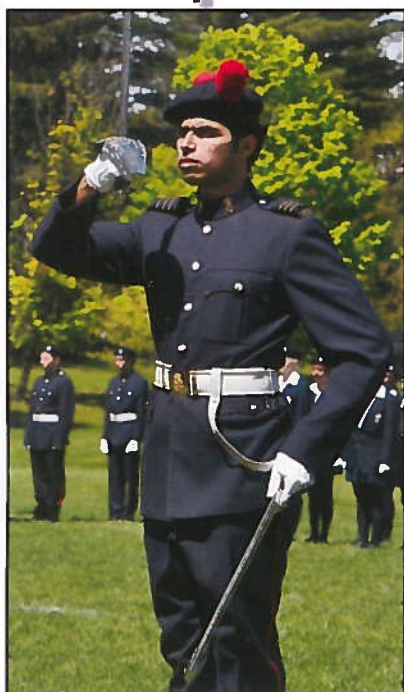

may 12

BCS went green over the weekend. To continue the celebration of our 175th year, BCS students planted 175 Downey, TrueBlue Fraser saplings around campus. Students and staff were up bright and early Saturday morning, the weather was superb and everyone was in high spirits. The event was a huge success and it was in collaboration with Round Square, (environment pillar) an international program of which BCS has been a member since 1986. BCS wants to thank William Downey and his family for providing the trees since this initiative would not otherwise have happened. Thank-you William for the expert advice on planting saplings; this was invaluable. It was overly impressive by the collective spirit we all had in participating in the planting process. A big heartfelt thank-you!

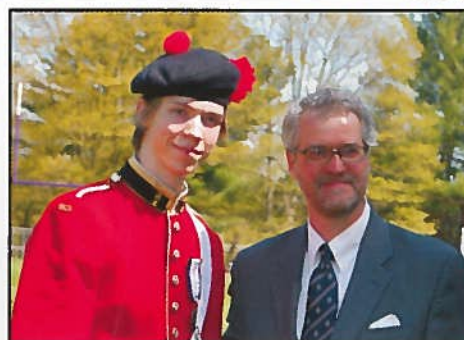

cadet inspection

may 18

We celebrated 151 years of Cadets here at BCS with the Annual Cadet Review of the BCS No. 2 Cadet Corps, the oldest cadet corps in Canada. The Commanding Officer, Cadet Major Abdulrahman Al Showaier, lead the parade beautifully through the inspection. This year's inspection was done by Lieutenant-Colonel Bruno Plourde, commander of The Black Watch. We are proud of the teamwork and dedication that was displayed by all our students as they marched in unison to the beat of the band. It was a great day for BCS.

rafting trip

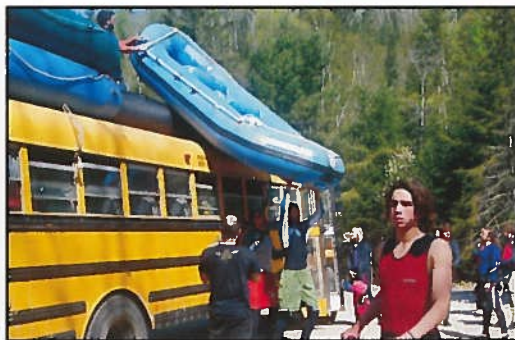

may 18-21

On May 18th we started on an epic Rafting Adventure that took place in Matawin, Quebec. The first day was spent driving and preparing for the following couple of days. We bought Anti-Bug Spray, which was really important, as we later realised. The next day we woke up early to drive to our camp site and get our wetsuits so we could begin rafting. The first things we realised were the amount of mosquitoes and that the "toilets" didn't have toilet paper and were made of wood! We had four boats, each with their own tour guide trained in White Water Rafting. At first, we thought that the little waves would be "hardcore", but the waves got bigger and bigger as we continued down the river. The following day, we rafted one of the longest tracks; it was 14 kilometres long with even bigger waves. A typical day had us rafting down the river in the morning, stopping for a picnic lunch, rafting the afternoon and finishing off the day having raft-wars, where we stole other boats' paddles and pushed other rafters into the water. At night, we sat around the camp fire, laughing, playing rugby or cards, and roasting marshmallows. In the beginning some of us were really scared to raft, but with the encouragement of the group and the teamwork that was involved, everyone had a great time.

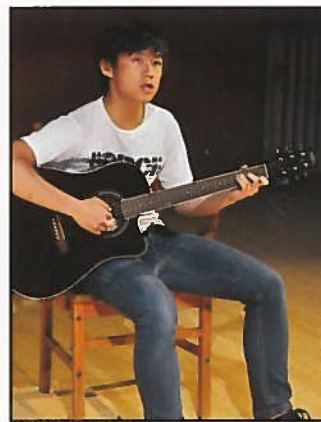

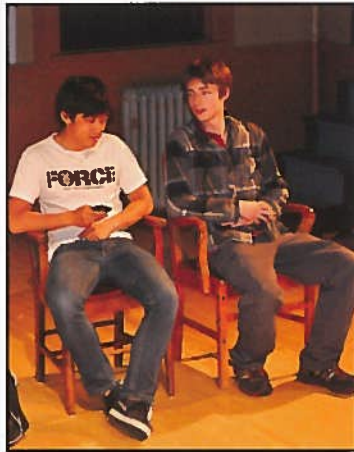

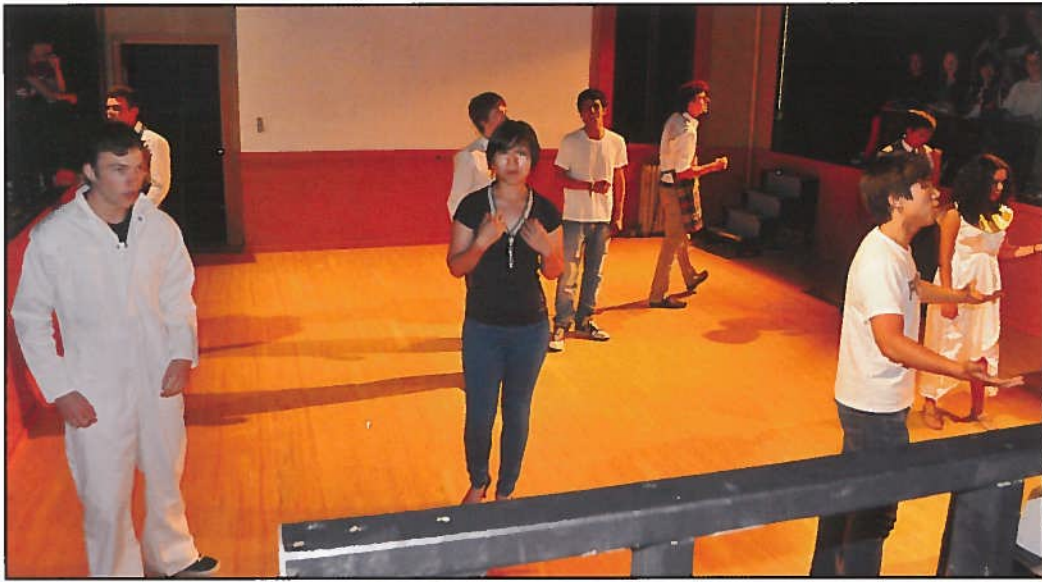

After the three days of rafting, we returned to the base camp and we were so excited to see toilets that flushed! Here, we changed in our clothes, thanked everyone for such a wonderful and fun weekend and proceeded to head back to BCS with lots of mosquito bites, bruises but with a big smile on our faces.

The Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme is a programme named for its founder, Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh, the husband of the Queen of England. Prince Philip had the good fortune to be educated by Kurt Hahn, the founder of the Round Square movement of which BCS is a member. The Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme is an internationally recognized programme. Young people who obtain the bronze, silver and gold medals have shown, in a concrete manner that they are individuals who are active, well organized and see life as an adventure. The Honourable Pierre Duchesne, the Lt Governor of Quebec, the Queen's official representative in the province, presented 58 bronze, 40 silver, and for the first time at BCS two gold medals.

round square: exchanges

"Here at Ballarat Grammar School in Australia I have done and seen many things. I've created strong friendships, I'm doing my homework, preparing for laundry day... But other then academics, I have seen hail storms that I did not think could ever happen in Australia. I have seen many wild animals like the deer, kangaroo, and cute koala. I have met so many people in this first week that my brain can't remember them all. I am the guy that everyone knows but doesn't know anyone. It hasn't worried me because Australians are really nice people, and mindful of others.

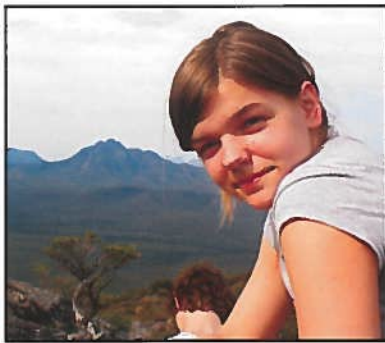

I think this exchange is the best thing that happened in my whole life. Everything is going great, my friends are awesome- life is GREAT. I keep in touch with my mom, and my friends at BCS. I am really enjoying my time here in Australia."~ Marc-Andre Bossé round square service projects

C. Barritt: RSIS Kenya

Saying good-bye to the Canadian winter and arriving in hot, dry Nairobi Kenya. Leaving friends and family was the easy part, what would be hard was spending 18 days with no electronics!

With just a camping back pack, my journey began on December 10th, 2011. I was the Bishop College student going to Kenya, so I was very excited meeting new students from other countries. There were 14 international girls from different Round Square schools around the world like Scotland, Peru, Australia, South Africa, and Canada. There were also 5 international guys from India, Canada, and Australia.

The nineteen of us plus the fifteen Starhe Boys (Round Square school in Nairobi) helped to build a class room for a small local village- Riandira Primary School. The experience of actually building a room was amazing, I've never made cement, or used a hammer before.

After a tough ten days of moving stones, mixing and applying cement, I realized how privileged I am to go to a boarding school like BCS. I learned that working hard and going to school will take you far, and that education is key to succeeding in life and work.

I also learned things about my self that made me stronger as a person. I never new I could live in a tent for ten days, not having warm water everyday (for showers), making cement, bending metal wires etc. I've learned that I could live with the bare minimum for 18 days, and how much I take the simple things, like a toilet, for granted.

What stuck with me the most was visiting a local person's home which was thirty minutes away from the school. It stuck with me the most because when we arrived we gave them food and it was the basics (rice, maize flour, tea and more) and the amount we gave the women for her family of five would last 2 weeks! Her house had 3 bedrooms, and her kitchen was outside. She made a living by growing and selling corn, and she had chickens, rabbits, and cows on her land. My group asked her questions and helped her weed her corn field, we also met her children.

The most relaxing part of my trip was staying in a lodge after spending ten days living in a tent. We had a wonderful buffet of food, soft drinks and juices and I got to see lions, elephants, hippos, cheetah, giraffes, zebras and many other animals.

Being chosen to travel away from the BCS community to help other students in a third world country was worth the wait, and being away from my family at Christmas, couldn't have happened if BCS was not a Round Square school.

R. Harding-Marlin: RSIS Honduras

Our main project was to build the right side of a dry-food storage area for the SAN (Sociedad Amigos de los Ninos) children as currently they had an inadequate area to keep food for the 120 children.

Dec 3rd -4th marked the day the group arrived in Tegucigalpa, Honduras to start our work project. We loaded up the bus and drove to Nuevo Paraiso, where we would be staying for the next two weeks. The 4th was orientation day as we played icebreaker games before seeing the worksite and meeting the children.

Dec 5-9 - Work Week #1 - The group arrived on the worksite each day for 8 am with the exception of the 2 people who were on a rotating domestic clean-up duty. We worked everyday till noon, had a quick lunch and started up again in the afternoon from 1:00 to 5:00. Everyday the children would patiently wait for us to finish so they could play soccer with us til dark. The group worked very well all week and was well ahead of schedule.

(My job included creating the frame, sifting the sand, mixing cement, and laying bricks.)

Dec 10-11 - Today we drove to Tegucigalpa to visit with the children of Pedro Altala - another project location then travelled to Valley of the Angels for lunch and to walk around and do some shopping for souvenirs before we returned back to Nuevo Paraiso. We also got to visit the factory where the bricks were made. I even got to work beside the men.

Dec 12-16 - Work week #2 - The group continued working on the storage room. Bricks were done as far as the roofline and the cement floor was completed.. We got so far ahead that partway through the week that we had a last minute opportunity to visit Montaña de Luz for an unfrequented tour: an orphanage for HIV/ Aids Positive Children.

At the end of the week - before departing we helped prepare for a fiesta (piñata, cake, etc...) with the children, followed up with the reenactment of the Nuevo Paraiso Christmas celebrations

Dec 17-20 - Today we said our goodbyes to Tango and the children of Nuevo Paraiso, boarded the bus to start the journey to Tela on the north coast. We stopped for lunch and to stretch our legs at a restaurant near Yojoa Lake and then continued the journey to arrive in Tela. While in Tela we spent time at the ocean beach, and visiting various sites. We even travelled to Lancetilla Park where we saw some of the local plants and walked through the park.

On another day we drove to the Garifuna village of Triunfo de la Cruz where we had lunch and watched (as well as participated in!) a set of traditional Garifuna dances, singing and storytelling followed up by a bonfire on the beach to close out our time together on the project.

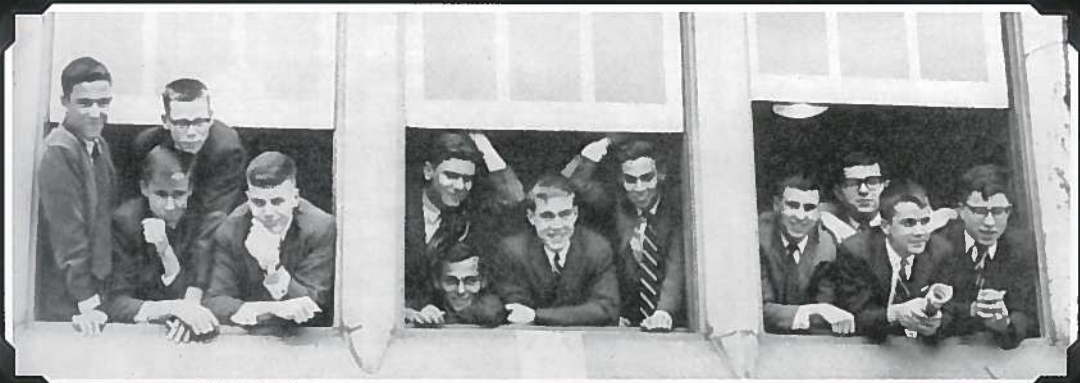

Overall the experience was rewarding, satisfying and very worthwhile.

Alex Tokarsky: RSIS India 2011

The Round Square international service project that I participated in took place in India. We were working on improving a school for children in a rural area near the city of Dehradun, the capital of the northern state of Uttarakhand. The project itself was likely the most rewarding and interesting experience of my life, allowing me to not only contribute to a worthy cause, but mainly to experience an entirely new culture. In fact, the culture shock was so intense that on my return to Canada, I realized that I would never be able to see the world in the same light. Just the notion that out there, only fourteen hours away, is a completely different world, changed me. I have found myself missing India very often, wishing I was still there, still able to see something amazingly interesting everywhere I go. Kerouac once dabbled with the notion that time moves slower when one experiences a large amount of new things. My trip to India was exactly this: a period of bliss in my life that also seemed very slow. I would like to thank Round Square for the opportunity to be able to realize this ability to warp time and I hope to return to India and to travelling in general as soon as I can.

Kieran McCormick

To any Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth or Sixth Former who does not feel like they can make it at BCS, like they will never be able to fit in at such a school or like they will never be recognized for all they put themselves through, believe me when I say that if you work hard enough and if you take advantage of everything BCS throws your way, you will. You will just like I did. If you put in the effort, regardless of your form, and regardless of what those around you think or tell you, you will end up getting more out of your experience at BCS than anyone else and you will be recognized for your actions.

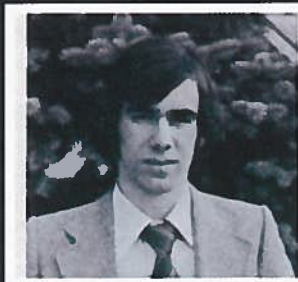

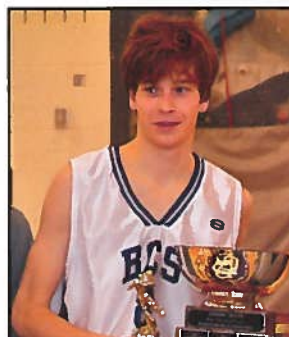

My career at BCS did not begin in Form II, but ten years earlier at the age of two when my mom got a job in the library. My earliest memory, in fact, was of a much younger me playing hide-and-seek with myself in the old library. Like all students who walk through its doors, BCS put my needs and potential ahead of everything else, and I knew that from a very young age. It is for this reason that I never questioned what I was being put through. BCS is not always easy, but no matter how bad things may seem, as long as you are putting in the effort, getting involved and following the rules, you will end up leaving the school with as much sentimental pain and sadness as me.

Looking up to the mature, confident older students, I never expected to be one of them. I know that many of you reading this may also feel as if you will never build up what it takes to be one of them either, but you do have the potential to. I wish more young students would realize this and it is for this reason that I am sad to be this year's only lifer.

There are too many people to thank. There are too many teachers who have long since departed who have greatly affected me in one way or another, too many former prefects who led by example and encouraged me to get where I am today. I am at the zenith of my BCS career and while I can thank those who have helped me through this year, it does not do justice to all those who are long gone and who I've never seen again.

Thank you to everyone who has said 'hi' to me, who has listened to me or talked to me, no matter what form you are in. You have no idea how much your kindness has meant to me and I don't know I will survive without it in my future. Thank-you to Ben, Luke and Angie, my Round Square buddies who made my first airplane experiences memorable and hilarious, to my parents for making this journey possible, to Mr. Madsen, my houseparent of six years, to Mr. Evans and Mr. Watt, to all my teachers and coaches and to the prefects. Abdul, Ana, Angus, Amadeus, Shun, Vanessa, Justin and Ella, you guys are the closest thing I've ever had to siblings and of everyone I've ever had to say goodbye to it will have been the hardest to say goodbye to you. You have done more for me than you'll ever know and I know that I will never feel as much a part of a family as I do with you.

BCS is the best school in the world. It is my home and it is sad that I am the only person this year to share such a connection with the school. BCS is not an easy place to go through, but in the end you will realize that sticking through with it is probably the best decision you will ever make. I would stay at BCS for 100 years if I could, but knowing that I have reached my final weeks, all I can do is say one final thank-you. Thank-you to everyone and I will always be around if anyone needs me.

A great year for prefects it sure has been, together we've made it through thick and through thin.
Although through this year we sure did all grow
how much of the prefects do you actually know?

Abdul, he's modest and oh so honest,
In him you can trust and keep a promise.
In cadets, his commands we all did hear,
with him in charge, there's nothing to fear.

Vanessa the queen from the Bahamian isle,
and have you ever seen a prettier smile.
The lone prefect who's off to McGill,
I can tell you this girl is no run of the mill.

Ana is sweet and ever so smart,
and how about that warm and comforting heart.
Her time at BCS has not been so long,
but boy as an actress she is ever so strong.

Amadeus, in the weight room, he's probably there, lifting those weights without a care.
His accent, of it, I sure am a fan
I understand it as much as I can.

Shun, the songbird from Japan,
he is infatuated by the muscles of man.
his hair it was black and then it was red and he comes out of Dining Hall well overfed.

Mantat, or Angus as he is well know,
in swimming crease boy does own.
He may joke around and be quite crazy,
but in his work he sure isn't lazy.

Kieran the lifer and cross country runner and with the ladies he is a real stunner.
Do not underestimate his athletic ability and boy does he ever have such great humility.

Justin, he is off to BU
so he will be back to see all of you, on the streets Lennoxville, he will be around,
'cause for the rest of his life, he's stuck in this town.

In our increasingly electronic and virtual work, play, study and relationships there is something reassuring about the solidity of a physical Yearbook. Within the covers we see and feel tactile evidence of an historic year at Bishop's College School. Over the course of this academic year we celebrated our school's 175th year – so in addition to the terrific coverage of our traditional events and activities, this year's yearbook also gives us the opportunity to cast a look back at those who preceded all of us.

You see on this page some of the 27 Headmasters who preceded me. Headmasters – like students, staff, parents and faculty – have come and gone and will continue to do so. In this way BCS is like a river in both its constancy and change. Returning to a river after an absence, the observer will typically see a view similar to one from the past even though the water currently passing through has never flowed between its banks before.

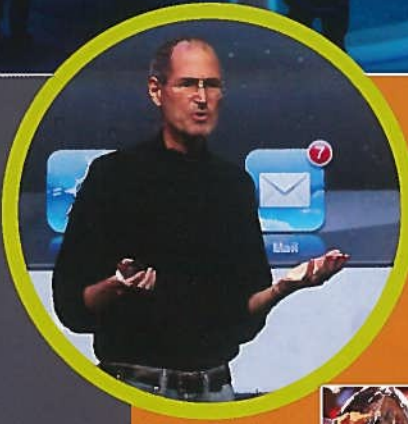

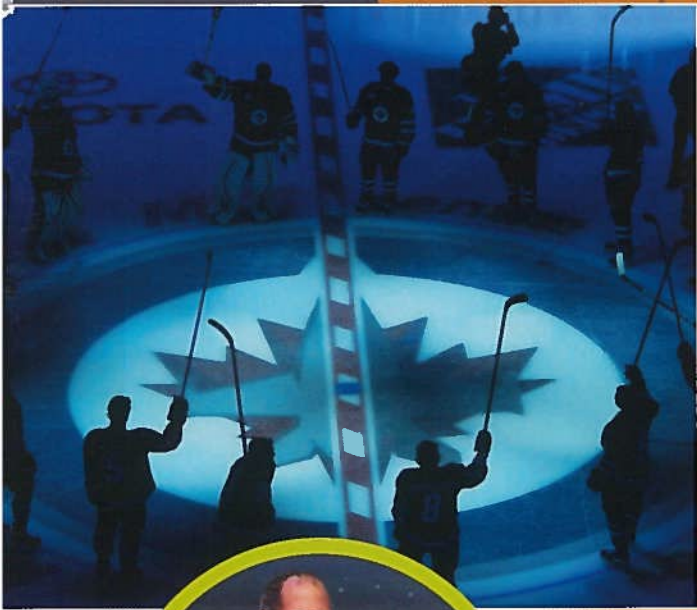

Like a river, then, this yearbook provides a snapshot – in words and images – that shows the flow of this year. It is both similar to and distinct from previous yearbooks. Enjoy this historic yearbook, and please join me in congratulating the team that has so effectively put it together.

Sincerely,
Ian Watt
Headmaster (2009-12)
